1. Background of the game

In 2050, as the development of the earth, the need of resource is getting more and more urgent. Greenhouse effect, population explosion, tsunami, earthquake and so on, all seems to foreshow that human beings are getting closer and closer to the final trial of destiny. To avoid such terrible fate, the Earth's Federation secretly sets a project named "Mars Construction Plan" to transport overspill to the Mars, to make the Mars another homeland for human beings.

In 2055, "Mars Construction Plan" is put in practice successfully that the first transmigrant airship "Cross Star" lands on the Mars smoothly, people throughout the world watch the pomp on TV, by INTERNET II and other various kinds of media excitedly. As the World's Federation Flag is aflutter on the land of Mars, the sound of whoopee covers all around the earth. But far beyond people's expectation, on the outer space of the earth appear a good number of Mars warships. Obviously, as the earthmen intend to migrate to the Mars, the Martian have been ready to invade the earth as well.

It is in such a sudden that the earth federal army without any earlier preparation is utterly routed, the Martian take possession of Europe, America, Asia-Pacific in only three months. Only in Himalayas there are some guerillas still in revolt. On the other hand, the earth's "Cross Star" on the Mars is soon bombed by the Mars robots when the Martian begin attacking the earth. All the earth is hung over a disaster and it seems that the earthmen are going to come to an end.

The game begins! The Player acts as a soldier of the earth federal army, to save the whole human beings, he is designed to implement the formidable assignment to smash the command ship "BT-SPIDER" of Martian.
